“Tim is one of the most unique and entertaining speakers I’ve seen. Where others might use jargon, Tim produces hilarious hand-drawn visuals to make his point. When you leave, you know you’ve just heard a creative genius.”

Robert Hortle, State Director, the Oaktree Foundation

“Tim’s message is universal and he delivers it with limitless enthusiasm and imagination. He has a rare ability to speak to everyone from primary to elderly, and make them laugh, listen and learn. At Tim’s talks, people don’t just listen; they have a great time.”

Laura Sykes, State Director, VGen, Tasmania

All Tasmanians are warmly invited to take this opportunity to be inspired by Young Social Pioneer Tim Kenworthy and hear his unique perspectives on young people, doing good and being nice to each other.

Refreshments will be available and there will be an opportunity to meet informally with Tim, young Tasmanians who are doing good, as well as staff and local supporters of A Fairer World including:

Dr Robbie Johnston, UTAS Faculty of Education
Ros Lewis, Oxfam Australia Volunteer (Tas)
Janine Davis, Trevallyn Primary School
Robert Hortle, Oaktree Foundation
Laura Sykes, VGen State Manager

Tim is in Tasmania as a keynote speaker for the 2013 Fairer World Festival, Tasmania’s largest youth social justice event.
Tim Kenworthy is a full-time human being. He is also the founder and Childlike Enthusiasm Officer (CEO) of Useful Inc., a non-profit that exists to make doing good as mainstream as cheeseburgers and breathing.

Useful's flagship initiative is Big Help Mob, a huge mob of ordinary people who combine their powers to perform extraordinary voluntary feats for people and organisations who need help (sort of like a volunteer rent-a-crowd). One day Big Help Mob volunteers could be helping an old lady paint her fence. The next day they could be planting ten thousand trees in a single morning.

Tim has lived in Perth pretty much his whole life and likes it when people are nice to each other.

A Fairer World is a social justice hub comprising the Tasmanian Centre for Global Learning, the Global Learning Resource Library and www.afairerworld.org.

Our mission is to engage schools and the Tasmanian community in action for social justice, peace and a sustainable world future. We do this by providing access to education programs, training, resources and networks.

Our programs include ruMAD?, Living in Between: Diversity Education through Storytelling, the Hobart Human Library and monthly film screenings.

The Fairer World Festival was the Hobart City Council Australia Day 2012 Community Event of the Year and is the largest youth human rights event in Tasmania. Around 1400 students from grades 3 to 12 attend one of four days, with primary and secondary student days at UTAS campuses in both Hobart and Launceston. The Festival inspires young Tasmanians to be a driving force for positive change in their local and global communities by exploring social and environmental issues within the framework of the United Nations Millennium Development Goals and the Universal Declaration of Human Rights.
