Narratives and Reflections on Nursing Children: Contemplating the Past and Envisioning the Future

Facilitated by Professor Bernie Carter
University of Central Lancashire

Bernie is Professor of Children’s Nursing at the University of Central Lancashire and Director of the Children’s Nursing Research Unit (CNRU), Alder Hey Children’s NHS Foundation Trust. She is a Fellow of the Royal College of Nursing and is delighted to be a Clinical Professor at the University of Tasmania.

Nursing children will always involve listening to, responding to and becoming part of the stories that they tell when they are ill, in pain or worried about what is happening to them. Nurses caring for children will continue to develop, challenge the status quo and drive change so as to ensure that children receive the best possible care. Using narratives from children, their families and from professionals, I plan to explore some of these changes, examine where we are now and consider what the future holds for children’s nursing.
